The seller agrees to transfer the described item to the buyer on the stated payment and delivery terms. The parties must separately complete any required title, registration, disclosure or lien-release process.

The condition and defects recorded here are the parties' description of the item. This document does not disclaim a warranty or remedy that cannot lawfully be excluded, cancel an express promise or excuse fraud or misrepresentation.

The seller identifies the disclosed liens and title restrictions below. No statement in this record confirms that a lien has been paid, that an agency has transferred title or that a third party has consented.

4. Signatures

Read the full document and the execution notes before signing. A signature records the stated agreement; it does not complete an agency transfer. Add signature pages for every additional owner whose signature is required.

Agency checklist and sources

Washington's reviewed sale-of-goods provision generally requires a signed record for enforcement at $500 or more, with statutory exceptions. The quantity shown limits enforcement under that provision.

A signed sale record and a notarized certificate are different things. The reviewed commercial-law source does not establish a universal notary or witness requirement for every private goods sale.

Specify the exact goods and quantity rather than relying on an ambiguous item description.

Washington restricts merchant sellers' consumer warranty disclaimers unless they identify the particular qualities and characteristics not warranted.

Describe known defects and actual express promises. This template contains no blanket waiver of every warranty or remedy.
